

Hudson's Bay Co.'s

Annual Harvest Sale

Our Annual Celebration of Harvest Week Begins Friday, Oct. 28th; Ends Thursday, Nov. 3rd

HARVEST TIME IS HERE—The most glorious time of all the year. As the thrifty husbandman now looks about him at barns and granaries filled to overflowing and feels justifiable pride in the fruits of his labors, so we, too, with shelves groaning and racks sagging under the weight of new goods, feel amply repaid for our efforts of the months just passed. The world has been our field and from its far corners, we have garnered a magnificent collection of reliable, fashionable merchandise. For Harvest Week, we have substantially reduced prices on seasonable things that you may reap benefits of our tillage of the soil of commerce. The special mark-downs go into effect FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28.

AT THE THEATRES

VISITING MRS. WIGGS.

Those who were fortunate enough to visit Mrs. Wiggs in her Cabaret Patch at the Empire Theatre last night, spent one of the most delightful evenings imaginable. Mrs. Wiggs, of course, with her honey philosophy and cheery manner, won the hearts of all her visitors. These guests were saying: She is one of the most delightful characters that ever stepped behind the footlights in Edmonton. Helen Westbury played the part with exceptional skill, and showed that self-reliance that is the saving grace of any good actor. Miss Mille as the incomparable Miss Hazy, was clever, her make-up and voice manipulation kept the house in laughter whenever she appeared. Lovey Mary acted up to her name, and that is saying a whole lot. Every member of the company seemed to be picked for the part, and the children especially won the attention of the spectators. One noticed that on the program Billy Wiggs has his name printed in caps. We presume this means the plays a star part. More of the audience, however, wonder if it was not just a typographical error.

A large house was present last night, and the S. R. O. sign will in all probability be hung out tonight, as the house is expected to be well filled to appreciate a good play, and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabaret Patch," is one of the best that has ever been in this city.

AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

Saturday will be the opening day for another new and up-to-date moving picture theatre, the Majestic. The Majestic is located in the old "Dominion," at Third and Jasper, opposite the Hudson Bay Store. The interior has a very cosy and inviting appearance, having been thoroughly cleaned and repainted. The Majestic is designed like a theatre, not a store-room, thereby gaining a decided advantage in treating its patrons with care and an eye to their comfort. They have the finest and most up-to-date picture machines money can buy. The Majestic will be a modern picture theatre in every way, and the management assures the theatre-goers of Edmonton, a high class entertainment, including good pictures, and songs, with a first class orchestra. The Majestic gives a free matinee Saturday, at 2:30 p.m., and a grand opening at 7:30 p.m. with a full orchestra.

"THELMA" AT THE EMPIRE. "Thelma," the wondrous story of the hand of the Village-School, which will be presented on Saturday afternoon and night at the Empire, is one of the best as well as prettiest plays that any one can have the pleasure of seeing. "Thelma," by one of the world's greatest writers, namely, Marie Correll, is one of the old standbys, as the saying goes, and is perhaps the only play that has the reputation all over the world, of being the only play which truthfully depicts the life and customs of the Land of the Midnight Sun. A beautiful love story interspersed with good clean, dramatic and comedy situations, runs throughout the entire production. Miss Kennedy in the role of "Thelma" will be seen to her best advantage, while Jack Westerman will hold down the comedy situations. The rest of the entire company will have extremely strong parts making "Thelma" one of the best plays ever presented by this sterling company in Edmonton.

ALL GIRLS IN THE COMPANY.

It is the boast of the Juvenile Bostons that their is the only theatrical or operatic organization of the kind in the world, i.e., every member of the company is a girl. Of course there are men, but they occupy positions in the business department or are part of the stage crew. The people that the audience see, however, are all girls. Such an arrangement is impossible except in a juvenile company, for while a young girl of 16 to 20 can successfully imitate a boy of the same age, it is rare that a grown-up woman can do anything more than masquerade as a young man. In their years of experience with juvenile organizations, Mrs. E. Lane and her staff have discovered that the girls do the best work, are less trouble, quicker studies, more adaptable and less liable to get into mischief. That is why all the male parts in the operas and operettas in the repertoire of the Juvenile Bostons are played by girls and none of them over sixteen years old. The Juvenile Bostons will appear here on Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2, 3 at the Empire Theatre.

$10,000 BEAUTY AT LYCEUM.

The Lewis & Lake Musical Comedy Co. presented The $10,000 Beauty last evening to a large and enthusiastic audience. As, as usual it was one big laugh from curtain to curtain. Miss Marjorie Lake as the Beauty, was a hit from the first, and her number "I Would Like to Marry You," was all that could be desired both from the artistic way she interpreted the number, and the fun she creates with her audience. Mr. Clifford as well as Messrs. Meyers and Ascher do full justice to their parts. And well they take care of the comedy end of the show. For clean witty humor this trio are hard to beat anywhere. Miss Florence Chapman has two very pretty numbers. In "Lonesome" and "Thinking Star," the latter an electrical effect which must be seen to be appreciated, the production more than came up to all the good things said of it, and will no doubt pack the Lyceum for the rest of the week. And above all, a clean lively show that ladies and children as well as gentlemen need not be afraid of attending.

Friday evening there will be one show only, on account of the Chorus Girls' contest, and we feel sure that if you see this novelty once you will want more of it. Before the comedy Myriam the Magician, introduced some new and novel features in coin manipulation. And Miss Lake rendered a very pretty illustrated ballad and well deserved encores.

CADETS' PRESENTATION

After the inspection of the Strathcona school cadet corps yesterday afternoon the Duggan street school Company was declared by Lieut.-Col. Cruickshank, the winner of the highest number of points and therefore entitled to hold for the coming year, the trophy presented by His Excellency Earl Grey for competition among the cadet corps of the whole Dominion. It was won last summer by the Strathcona corps in competition with seventy cities, counties, and towns, distributed at follows: Alberta (4)—Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, and Strathcona. British Columbia (2)—Vancouver and Victoria. Nova Scotia (2)—Saskatchewan—Regina, and Moose Jaw.

Manitoba (3)—Among them Ottawa, Owen Sound, Guelph, St. Catharines, St. Thomas, Port Arthur, Toronto and Fort William. Quebec (28)—Sherbrooke, Three Rivers, St. Hyacinthe, Montreal, Quebec, New Brunswick (3)—Among them St. John.

Nova Scotia (3). Prince Edward Island (1). The inspection which began shortly after one was carried out by Lieut. Col. Cruickshank, assisted by various members of the local militia. The boys were in charge of Instructor Crumb and their several captains. The drill included manual exercises, company drill, firing, and wound up with a march past. The boys looked very neat in their new khaki outfits consisting of tunic and cap and executed their manoeuvres with precision and smartness though they did not forget to jolly one another when standing easy in the ranks. After observing the manoeuvres and inspecting rifles and accoutrements, Col. Cruickshank withdrew to make a decision.

At four o'clock the cadets re-assembled at the east end of the Collegiate to hear the award. Standing on the steps before the boys, Col. Cruickshank before giving his decision addressed them for a few moments. "The organization of cadet corps was initiated," he said, "in Canada a little more than thirty years ago by the formation of companies at the college of St. Hyacinthe, and at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, in the Province of Quebec, under authority of a general order dated November 28th, 1879. For some years the progress of the movement was slow, but whether it has been particularly popular and that province has now sixty-four cadet organizations, comprising 181 companies. These include one cadet regiment of twelve companies and twenty-three cadet battalions of from four to eight companies each. A number of the latter have been suitably named.

THREE FIRE CALLS

Three calls were sent in to the fire department yesterday, none of them proving serious. The first was at 12.20 a.m. from 333 Ross street, a house owned by T. D. Hughes, and occupied by John McNeill. An overheated stove was the cause, and a little damage was done to the building.

At 3.12 p.m. a barn owned by Robert Mays at 84 Donald street, went on fire through hot ashes being placed in it. There was no damage done.

At 6.30 p.m. an alarm was sent in from the Windsor block where an old stove had exploded in room 212. There was little damage done to the building and some of the contents of the room.

THE SHAM BATTLE

A careful survey of the ground over which the sham battle is to be held on Thanksgiving Day is being made by the officers and men of the 101st Fusiliers. Each officer has selected a half section of ground and made a tactical map of it between the Packing Plant and the St. Albert trail so that when the whole is put together it will make an effective map of the night square miles.

The least and single hand will play the regiment out and then join in the fight after which they will play the various units part in the review by Lieut.-Col. Edwards at the end of the day, on the north side of the H. R. reserve west of First street.

Regimental orders by Lieut.-Col. E. B. Edwards, commanding 101st Edmonton Fusiliers, Edmonton, Oct. 27th, 1910:

1. In accordance with garrison orders promulgated October 27th, 1910, tactical manoeuvres will be carried out on Thanksgiving Day, October 31st, 1910.

2. The regiment will parade as usual as possible at the Armouries at 8.00 o'clock a.m. on October 31st, 1910. Lunches to be provided individually.

3. Dress—Red Force: Drill, order, legging, ammunition pouches, haversack and water bottles. Bayonets will not be carried.

Blue force: Blue jeans and shirts, legging, ammunition pouches, haversack and water bottles. Bayonets will not be carried.

4. The regiment less one company will comprise the Red Force and will be under the command of Captain Osborne. Lieut. Brown will act as adjutant.

One company under command of Captain McLeod will be attached to the Blue Force and will report to Major Grice, 101st A.M.R., commanding Blue Force.

To be orderly officer for the day, Lieut. Kellie.

To be orderly sergeant for the day, Sgt. A. M. Dechen, "C" Co by order.

CUDAHY COLLEGE TOGS DEAR

BOSTON TAILOR FIES SUIT

Says Neither Father Nor Son Will Pay for Clothes Made for Boy at Harvard in 1905

Chicago, Oct. 27.—"A College Boy's Wardrobe," or "What John Cudahy Wore at Harvard," would be an appropriate title to a story briefly told in a suit filed by F. L. Dunne & Co., fashionable Boston tailors, in the municipal court yesterday.

One worsted sack suit, silk lined, $80
One white waistcoat, 25
One silk waistcoat, 25
One padlock waistcoat, 100
One gray Scotch sack suit, 75
One undressed worsted sack suit, 100
One Venetian padlock suit, 100
One worsted sack suit, 80

Total $505
The suit (legal action) filed through the law firm of Cunningham, Cunningham & Quinlan, is for clothes purchased in February, March and April of 1905.

Young Cudahy, when pressed for the bill last March, put his "O.K." on it and turned the collector over to John Cudahy, Sr., the millionaire packer. The collector took on chance, according to Attorney Quinlan, and said "this son could look after his own affairs."

A few days ago young Cudahy was sued by Samuel K. Martin for $200. Young Cudahy borrowed the money from Mr. Martin three years ago.

FERTILIZERS FOR FERNS

One of the best fertilizers for the maidenhair fern and for other ferns is made of soda disphosphate, the water that is left to them. If your ferns are small or weak do not make the proportion of nitrate more than one quarter of an ounce to the gallon, but large plants and those of vigorous growth should be watered with a solution in proportion of one-half an ounce of nitrate to the gallon. Apply this fertilizer not oftener than once every ten days. Soot and salt are also useful. Some gardeners declare that the soot water fertilizer imparts a rich dark green hue to the fronds.

MOTORBOAT HONEYMOON

FROM TWIN CITIES TO CUBA

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 27.—From the twin cities to Cuba in a thirty-five motor boat, the groom's own making is an experience that S. G. Mooney and Miss Hilda Sandberg after they are married Oct. 27. The trip will extend down the Mississippi river, across the gulf of Mexico.

Mooney has been at work on his boat the better part of two years. He has fashioned it in a barn in the rear of his home.

The boat is called the Mamet. It is 35 feet long with 6 1/2 foot beam, and 20 inch deep. It is built with a trunk cabin and two staterooms, an engine room, a galley, and even an icebox. It is equipped with a twenty horse power gasoline engine.

Mooney is a graduate of the University of Minnesota school of electrical engineering. With the party will go Earl Waterman and Albert S. Peterson of Wheaton, both of whom have helped in the building of the "Mamet". All three of the young men have property in Cuba, near the point of destination.

The CONQUEST OF CANAAN

By DOOTH TARKINGTON, Author of "Cherry," "Monieur Decatur," etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Harper & Brothers

"I want to tell you, madam," he shouted, coming toward her, "that no member of my household—"

"That's another point we must take up today. I'm glad you remind me of it," she said thoughtfully, yet with so mysteriously compelling an intonation that he stopped his shouting in the middle of a word, stopped with an apologetic splutter. "We must arrange to put the old house in order at once."

"We'll arrange nothing of the sort," he responded after a moment of angry silence. "You're going to stay right here."

"Ah, I know your hospitality," she bowed graciously. "But of course I must not tax you too far. And about Mr. London? As I said, I want to speak to you about him."

"Yes," he intervened harshly, "so do I, and I'm going to do it quick! You'll find—"

Again she mysteriously baffled him. "He's a dear old friend of mine, you know, and I have made up my mind that we both need his help, you and I."

"What?"

"Yes," she continued calmly. "In a business way, I mean. I know you have great interests in a hundred different, all more important than mine. It isn't fair that you should bear the whole burden of my affairs, and I think it will be best to retain Mr. London as my man of business. He could take all the cares of the estate off your shoulders."

Martin Pike spoke no word, but he looked at her strangely, and she watched him with sudden keenness, leaning forward in her chair, her gaze alert but quiet, fixed on the dilating pupils of his eyes. It seemed to become dizzy, and the chocolate scented which had overspread his broad face and big neck faded splotchily.

Still keeping her eyes upon him, she went on: "I haven't asked him yet, and so I don't know whether or not he'll consent, but I think it possible that he may come to see this afternoon, and if he does we can propose it to him together and go over things a little."

Judge Pike recovered his voice. "He'll get a warm welcome," he promised huskily. "If he sets foot on my premises!"

"You mean you prefer I shouldn't receive him here?" She nodded pleasantly. "Then certainly, I shall not. Such things are much better for offices; you are quite right." She swept lightly and quickly to the door, where she paused, gathering her skirts. "I shall not detain you another instant! And if Mr. London comes this afternoon I'll remember. I'll not let him come in, of course. It will be perhaps pleasant to talk over my proposition as we wait."

There was a very faint, sly, older, like wild roses and cinnamon, left in the room where Martin Pike stood alone, staring wistfully at the open doorway.

CHAPTER XIII.

THERE WAS a custom of Canaan, (time worn and seldom honored in the breach, which put Ariel that afternoon in easy possession of a colon of vintage commanding the front gate. The heavy Sunday dinner was finished in silence (on the 3rd of June Pike donned about 3 o'clock, and soon after Martin tossed a number of cushions out upon the stoop between the cast iron dogs. Sam Vardon having previously covered the steps with a rug and placed several garden chairs near by on the grass. These simple preparations concluded, August sprang comfortably upon the rug and Mamie seated herself near him, while Ariel wandered with apparent aimlessness about the lawn, followed by the gaze of Mr. Hantry until Miss Pike begged her a little petulantly to join them.

She came, looking about her dreamily and touching to her lips now and then, with an absent air, a clover blossom she had found in the longer grass against the fence. She stopped to pet the neck of one of the cast iron deer and, with grave eyes, proffered the clover top first for inspection, then as food. There were those in the world who, seeing her, might have wondered that the deer did not play Galatea and come to life.

She had put on her hat after dinner, and Mamie now inquired if she would not prefer to remove it, offering to carry it indoors for her. To Ariel's room, to insure its safety. "You look so sort of temporary, wearing it," she urged; "as if you were only here for a little while. It's the loveliest hat I ever saw, and so fragile, too, but I'll take care!"

and are remarkably proficient in drill and military exercises.

A learner cadet company has been organized in Toronto, an engineer cadet company at Dalhousie University, Halifax, N.S., and a signalling cadet company at the public school, Dundas, Ont.

The Niagara Falls Collegiate Institute cadet company has on three occasions taken part in the annual training and tactical exercises at the district camp at Niagara, Ontario, and was particularly complimented by Lord Aylmer, Lord Dunsford and Brigadier General Otter for good conduct and proficiency in drill.

The cadet corps of St. Albans' Cathedral school of Toronto, has on several occasions taken part in the Thanksgiving manoeuvres in military district No. 2 and been specially mentioned for efficiency in signalling.

Summer camp for school cadets have been successfully conducted in various parts of the Dominion which have in most instances been assisted by the militia department with the loan of tents and blankets. A part of the Calgary public school battalion, the boys brigade cadet company, of Wetaskiwin, spent several days under canvas and all of them deserve much credit for their proficiency and good conduct while under instructions.

The school board of Wetaskiwin have spent $500 on their company and the Roman Catholic separate school company of Edmonton and the High River cadet company are already provided with suitable uniforms and the Red Deer cadet company is now being uniformed.

Cadet corps of the province:

Calgary	7
Edmonton	7
Strathcona	3
Morinville	1
Wetaskiwin	1
Red Deer	1
High River	1
Macleod	1
Poudre Creek	1
Leduc	1
Medicine Hat	1

The recent progress of the cadet movement has been most remarkable and gratifying. In the report for 1908 the militia council remarked:

"The increased general interest in the cadet movement and steady growth in the number of gazetted corps was marked during the year. On March 1st, 1908, there were under the control and supervision of the department 145 corps of cadets, aggregating 20 companies, with an enrolled membership of over 900 boys. The majority of them were connected with educational institutions and varied in efficiency largely as the headmaster or other teachers were or were not sympathetic, and according to the facilities for drill and instruction. The schools have fitted up galleries for miniature rifle practice and platoon application, obtain free issue of four service rifles for teaching military practice, and, in addition, as already referred to in a previous paragraph, a submachine rifle machine. The success of the Dundas school cadets, of Dundas, Ont., in being the head of the cadets in Canada two years successively in the Canadian rifle League cadet competition as well as their success in obtaining so large a representation as they did upon the Dominion of Canada team in the inter-province contest for Lord Roberts trophy, 1908, is a practical illustration of the benefits of submachine rifle machine practice and preliminary military instruction.

Mr. Mayor, citizens and cadets, I congratulate you all on winning this trophy. Lord Strathcona, who was the first Canadian to lead substantial aid to the cadet movement must be proud that the city named in his honor was the first to win the Earl Grey Shield. The object of the cadet movement is one that appeals to all citizens and not to military people, to have a system of getting your work to us without it costing you but a postcard, letter or telephone message giving the order. Price card and shipping tags are free for the asking.

On these grounds the movement deserves the support of all good citizens.

Lieut. Governor Balfour then stepped forward to present the trophy. He was glad, he said, that Alberta was the first to win this shield. "We hope," said His Excellency, "that you will be able to keep up your training and retain the shield if not here, at any rate, in the west, for we believe we have good material in this western land. The cadet corps gives a good training physically and morally for the boys who in a few years will be men to do the work demanded of men. The design and motto of the emblem are such as to inspire you to nobly perform the duties of life."

The idea is to show the conquest the base and University by the Spirit of Wisdom, Courage and Love, and this is done through the means of a sword and bronze group of St. George and the Dragon with a background of the Union Jack and Maple Leaf in enamel, representing the Knights of Strenuous Endeavor riding out from the heart of the Union Jack to protect the Maple Leaf from the Dragon of Ignorance, Sloth and Self-Interest.

He then awarded the prize to Dugan school for the highest efficiency. Lieut. Col. Cruikshank stated that the composition was very clever, but the Dugan school boys had come out one point ahead. The standing was:

Maximum	275
Dugan school	192
Strathcona Collegiate Institute	101
Granville school	100

Mr. Ritchie when called on to speak frankly confessed that he had been doubtful at first as to the desirability of the founding of a cadet corps, but he had been entirely won over for the boys were not only healthier, but did better work in school. Mayor Dugan also spoke a few words and with three cheers for Col. Cruikshank and Instructor Crumb, the boys dispersed.

The Strathcona Cadet corps was started three years ago at Dugan school by Mr. Dobson, with one company. Next year a company at the Collegiate was added and has year on at Granville street school, making a total now of three companies. The officers in command are:

Dugan street school—Capt. V. Woods, Lieutenant Harold Allan, Dugan Collegiate—Capt. Geo. Gibson, Lieut. Lavelle, Lieut. McLean, Granville street school—Capt. Charles Bassett, Lieut. Archie Bassett, Lieut. Harry McLean.

The full strength of these corps is 65, 65, 60 making a total of 155 members. Arrangements are being completed during the visit of Col. Cruikshank for the formation of a five company
